thexyz

Thexyz has a unique offering with its own private email hosting service which can be included with Hosted Exchange mailboxes on the same domain. This allows organizations who need Exchange-based email included with Office plans to realize significant savings. Not all users may require the more expensive Exchange functionality for email so having the ability to mix and match as needed can really help organizations save on IT expenses. Thexyz also offers business Office 365 plans, email migration services to and from Office 365, and additional email security services that can be used to strengthen the security of Office 365.
